Ready to train some Cadets?

This Looney Pyramids Demo Kit was created to bring the amazing world of Looney Pyramids to a larger audience. Any player that knows how to play ten pyramid games can call themselves a Starship Captain, can send away for a membership card in the Icehouse Academy of Starship Captains, and will be eligible to purchase the Starship Captain Challenge Coin! Thanks for helping us spread the word and train new Starship Captains!

Using this kit, you will be able to run training sessions that will earn players their Starship Captain designation. The guidelines in this kit are meant to help you recruit new Pyramid players and have a great time doing it!

But first...

Read through the instruction pages—they include more specific suggestions on how to use the kit to run training sessions as well as very useful information on how to create a fun and memorable experience for your Cadets.

Lead by example!

It is vitally important that you learn all ten of the Pyramid Games in the Syllabus yourself. When the instructor knows the games it will inspire confidence in the Cadets and make the demo experience better for everyone. If you know the games, but haven't played them in a few years, review them again before your demo starts! If you are not already a registered Starship Captain, please register at our fan club site and request your membership card!
