There are two ways to play Seven Islands. The solitaire version is a puzzle-solving challenge: to assemble a perfect, complete archipelago using all of the terrain cards. But when 2-4 are playing, the game becomes a race! Each player gets a pair of tokens that represent a two-person team — themselves and a friend — who must meet on the island with the game-winning beacon.

ABOUT THE GAME

You and a friend are contestants on a reality show! You've been stranded on a tiny tropical island, which is connected to six others by rickety bridges. The first team to reach the designated beacon wins a million bucks! How do you know which beacon to go to? Just look at the sail on the ship currently docked. Better get there quick before a different ship comes in!
